Coroner Says 1,000 and War Department 277 Perished in Calamity.

San Francisco, April 25.—Coroner William Walsh today estimated that the total number of dead will not be less than 1,000. His information, he says, is compiled from all the data he can obtain.

Coroner Walsh said: "Bodies that the deputy coroners have found and buried number 300, as follows:

"At Polk and Bay streets, 32; at Portsmouth square, 28; at Washington square, 13; at the Six-mile House 200; at Laurel Hill, 23; scattered in different parts of the city. No thorough search has been made of the district south of Market or the Chinese quarter. Many lives must have been lost in these sections. South of Market street are the cheap lodging houses, and many of these collapsed from the earthquake. There is little chance that half of the inmates of the collapsed buildings had opportunity to escape. This is also true of Chinatown.

"Shortly after the earthquake soldiers and police, so I have been told, buried bodies found along the water front. I have received no official report of these. The total number of dead will undoubtedly reach, if it does not exceed, 1,000.

The official report from Gen. Greely of the extent of the loss of life in San Francisco is as follows:

"Fort Mason, San Francisco April 23, 1906.—The Military Secretary, Washington, D. C.: Very careful investigation made by Capt. Winn today limit as far as information is obtainable, the entire San Francisco death list from late disaster to 27 victims; of these about fifty unknowns gathered from various parts of the city have been temporarily buried in Lombard and Bay streets, Washington square and Portsmouth square.

"In the Valencia Hotel fourteen bodies were recovered and fifty-six others are believed to have perished in the ruins."

Sunday in the Park.

It must have been impressive to hear the sound of 50,000 voices in Golden Gate park last Sunday afternoon join in singing that stanza in "Nearer My God, to Thee":

Other refuge have I none;
Hangs my helpless soul on Thee.
Leave, O leave, me not alone—
Still support and comfort me.

Cupid Working Overtime.

Since the first day of the disaster there has been an increase in the number of marriage licenses issued, seven being issued in one hour on Monday, although no other business is transacted in the county clerk's office.

"I don't live anywhere," is the answer given in many cases when the applicant is asked where his residence is. "I used to live in San Francisco."

Miss Rowena Wall, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wall, returned to the city last Tuesday night. She has been in New York for the past eleven months taking a private course in voice culture.

Miss Wall has a wonderfully sweet voice, which has been greatly developed by instruction of the highest order and close work during the past two years or more, and she now ranks among the best singers in this section of the State. This summer her admirers here hope to hear her often in the church choruses as well as in concert. Already there are whispers of a musical at her father's home in the immediate future, at which Miss Wall will sing several old-time melodies as well as a number of artistic selections.

Claim Against Government.

Rev. George W. Latham filed a claim here yesterday against the United States government for $550. He states in his affidavit that he operated a blacksmith shop in Hopkinsville in 1862 and 1863 and that General Murray took possession of same. He alleges that the shop remained in the possession of General Murray about a year and that the government is indebted to him in the above sum for material used, work done, et cetera.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Hopkinsville Women Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture; they must bend and stoop over, when to do so causes many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Re of a remedy for kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. John Combs, of 1226 South Washington Street, Hopkinsville, for many years suffered with persistent aching across my loins and through the kidneys. At times my back was so bad that I could hardly turn in bed and I could hardly lie on my back at all without placing my hand under it, which caused me much distress. I live in pain. A friend of Mr. Combs' told him that Doan's Kidney Pills and he got a box for me at Taylor & Traheren's drug store. On using them I steadily improved, until the dreadful aching was relieved and I could attend to my household duties without any inconvenience. They did more for me than any medicine I ever used and I gladly recommend them.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

Newsy Notes Chronicled By

"Rose Bud."

Haddock, April 21.—The farmers are getting along very nicely with their farming since the good weather set in.

Mr. Willie Vinson, of the Dogwood vicinity, had the misfortune to lose his horse last week.

Mrs. Julia Simms has moved to her mother's place (the late Mrs. Berry's) to live with her brother.

Mr. Paul Vanhooser is sick at this writing.

Mr. Ant Berry was taken very sick the day before his wife died and has been unconscious ever since.

Mrs. Martha Hard and her mother,

Mr. Bailey Vanhooser, spent last Thursday with the family of Mr. Frank Vanhooser.

Mrs. Lelia Mason visited her father a few days last week.

On the 18th of April, God in His infinite wisdom, saw fit to call from the love ground of sin and sorrow to a beautiful world above, the spirit of Mrs. Annie Berry, the wife of Mr. Ant Berry. She was a good Christian woman and was loved by all who knew her. She had been sick for about two months with fever. She bore her sufferings bravely until God relieved her of them. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn their loss! The children are: J. H. Duval, Dock and Bud Duval and Mrs. Julia Simms. Internment at the Richard Miles burying ground.

ELECTRICAL STORM

Saturday Night Made Thing Lively at Guthrie.

The electric storm of Saturday night did no damage here, though, for a time, the city was in darkness, on account of the current being broken. The house lights were not affected.

But Guthrie did not fare so well. A lightning bolt which knocked to pieces the top of one of the chimneys of Hotel Latham, crippled the electric plant there so badly that the town will be in darkness for a week or more.

Caught Cold While Hunting a Burglar.

Mr. Wm. Thos. Lenagan, provincial constable at Chappleton, Ontario, says, "I caught a severe cold while hunting a burglar in the forest swamp last fall. Hearing of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I tried it, and after taking two small bottles, I was completely cured." This remedy is intended especially for colds, influenza, grippe, etc. It will loosen and relieve severe cold in less time than by any other treatment and is a favorite wherever its superior excellence has become known. For sale by L. E. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkinsville.

With the coming of a circus two, the dog and pony show, the Firemen's and Pythian carnival and several other things yet to hear from, things will be quite lively here for some time—but how will we miss base ball during the hot and dull dials of midsummer.

Mr. Ant Berry.

Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself were stricken with grippe, specifically developed into the worst kind of a grippe, with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Egerton, of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Muscles, sore, knees and joints aching, head stopped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, taking the same with a double dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grippe." Sold by L. E. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkinsville.

For sale, after May 1, second-hand front fences. Apply to everybody.

FELT AT EARLINGTON.

A Hole Bored for Coal Sud-denly Caves In.

Earlington, Ky., April 21.—That the seismic disturbance which caused such awful damage at San Francisco were far-reaching in their effect, while for the most part of insufficient magnitude to be noticeable, is the belief of parties at this point.

The St. Bernard Mining Company was drilling a test bore to determine the mineral character of the ground at various depths and the drill had been driven to a depth of 1,300 feet.

Suddenly, on the morning of the San Francisco disaster, and, making allowance for the difference in time, simultaneously with the earth's tremors at that point, the hole, although encased, caved in. No trouble had been experienced by the drillers before, and the damage was so great to the bore that the work of drilling to a depth of 3,000 feet, as originally intended, was abandoned, a total wreck resulting.

Shrieking and Shooting.

It is a comfort to realize when we hear people talking about "the good old times that used to be," that in some respects, at least, we show more common sense today. One instance is in our attitude toward women. There was a time when a woman was expected to shriek and faint in almost any emergency. It was even considered an attractive exhibition of dependence. Today we pardon lack of nerve and self-possession in a woman almost as little as in a man. The girl who rides and shoots has taken the place of the girl who used to shriek and faint. No small factor in bringing this welcome change about has been the campaign carried on by the Stevens Arms and Tool Company, Chicopee Falls, Mass., makers of the famous Stevens firearms, who have introduced our girls to the healthy, upbuilding sport of outdoor shooting. The company has issued a catalog illustrating many varieties of lightweight rifles, shotguns and pistols which girls all over the country are using today. It contains much useful and interesting information on such points as the selection, care and testing of firearms, besides notes on ammunition, targets, etc. We understand this book of reference will be sent free to anyone sending four cents in stamps to cover postage.

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.

The quick relief from rheumatic pains afforded by Chamberlain's Pain Balm has surprised and delighted thousands of sufferers. It makes restful sleep possible again, and many have been permanently cured of rheumatism by the use of this liniment. For sale by L. E. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkinsville.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is greater than that of any other member of the family.

The mothers look forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of their children and the many illnesses to diseases that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in times of illness among the children.

The doctor may come and go with their different theories and constant change of remedies.

The doctor of years ago gave entirely different remedies than he does today.

Each year finds some change in his prescriptions and in the drugs he relies upon.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Peruna is the stand-by, and that in all the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will most quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach distressing, whether it is a catarrhal or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peruna quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects and it is safe.

It simply removes the causes of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Peruna is not a physic. Peruna does not produce any drug habit, however long it may be taken. Peruna is not a stimulant.

Peruna is a specific remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

The Mothers Hold Peruna in High Esteem.

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it always rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files bushels of testimonial from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna write to us.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overcome at some special good they have received from Peruna that they can't wait to tell others about it. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Peruna Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peruna, for it is the tender years of youth that might allow us to develop into lasting disease thus blighting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Peruna are doing a great work for her. We need to bring them up to believe in Peruna from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peruna with unquestioning faith.

Peruna Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Peruna is appreciated in every household, both as a preventive and curative, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

Mrs. Threasa Cooke, 285 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., Treasurer Ladies' of the Macabees, writes:

"In our home Peruna is the only medicine we have. Grandmother, mother, father and child, all have used Peruna. It is our great remedy for catarrh of the stomach and head, colds, and female complaints of which it has cured me. We find it of great value when my husband becomes worn out or catches cold. A couple of doses cure him."

"If the baby has cold, or stomach disorders, a dose or two cures her. I consider it as good as any doctor's medicine that I have ever tried and I know that as long as we have it in the house, we will all able to keep in good health." —Threasa Cooke.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 927 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peruna. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctors with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good.

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peruna.

"We had several doctors and they said could do no more for him so we tried Peruna as a last resort, and it did good work. Since then we keep in the house all the time, and no doctor is required." —Edward Otto.

Peruna Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics and is not liable to produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

Peruna is the multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong."

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine. Please send us more and we shall always need it."

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment." —G. H. Farmer.

Mr. Howard Andrew Sternes, Muddy Creek, Pa., writes:

"I have had Peruna in my house all the time and without it, I never pleased to give it my recommendation." —Amelia Saller.

Peruna Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peruna should be kept in the home all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick; then send to a drug store. But, have Peruna on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to catarrh. Peruna relieves the affectionate colds and catarrhs.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are best during phases of catarrh.

Mrs. Amelia Saller, Monaca, W. Va., writes:

"I have had Peruna for a number of years. It cured me of chronic catarrh which I suffered from infancy."

"When my three children were born, they had catarrh but I have given them Peruna and fed it very effectively in this of this terrible trouble. I find that it is also good to give them a tonic and a preventative of solids and colds."

"In fact, I consider it a household blessing. I give it to my children without it. Please to give it my recommendation." —Amelia Saller.

MY LOVE.

A lover am I and a lover bold,
And the earth is my lady fair,
I love her in every shape and guise,
And I sing of her beauties rare.

I brave the fierce storm on the mountain top,
And about to the sentinel pine,
Hurrrah! hurrrah! you are keeping the faith,
And guarding this dear love of mine.

With snowshoes and skis and sharp state
of steel,

Weave chaplets to lay at her knees.

The Indians naked in wild frames,
Are masters of silver and gold,
And mirrors whose lifelike efforts are vain
To picture the charms they behold.

Old ocean is raging in futile wrath,
And hastening his waves into foam,
Thoughtless losing his kisses and gifts at her feet,

Alas! he no farther can come.

And then under palms 'neath the Southern stars,

She is queen in a jeweled crown,

I worship all day and dream all the night,

And I treasure her veriest frown;

—In Memory Shows, in Recreation Magazine.

Far out on the prairie and upland plain,

With the wild western winds blow free,

I watch brave summer with flowers and grain.

Weave chaplets to lay at her knees.

The Indians naked in wild frames,

Are masters of silver and gold,

And mirrors whose lifelike efforts are vain

To picture the charms they behold.

Old ocean is raging in futile wrath,

And hastening his waves into foam,

Alas! he no farther can come.

See how nicely it comes in, and he reads aloud:

"Now for the second verse." His ideas evidently are coming faster, for the pencil moves rapidly. She watches him with an amused, tender expression, and, leaning her head on one side, writing his first valentine to her. Presently he pauses.

"I'm stuck again," agrees with Gifted Hopkins, the English language is abominable. Here I'm held in check in my poetical effusion all on account of a puny word to rhyme with 'gap'."

"Let me see—'I'm stuck again,' and leaning over his chair she reads aloud:

"A castle off in Spain;

A kingdom fair for thee to reign,

I'd gladly give if they were mine,

Had I a purse that wide did gap—

There's where the rub comes in and the rhyme don't."

"I've got it now," she says, and then trying very hard to recite, she recites:

"I'm stuck again, I'm stuck again,

My gold to hold."

"Now, Carrie, that's mean."

"Well, dear, to be serious." She reads for a moment. "How would this do?"

"Had I a purse that wide did gap

With yellow coin, within thy lap

I'd gladly pour my golden store."

"Finely. Now don't say a word!" she exclaims, as she is about to speak.

"I've got the ending in my head. She looks on it and in a moment her finishing:

"Now, here are the last lines:

"The only thing I have to send

Is love—a love that knows no end."

"That's awfully pretty!" she cries, clapping her hands. "Why, don't you take it around to a paper now?"

"And Tom," she calls out, as he is pulling on his coat in the hall, "if it isn't accepted, don't be discouraged—it'll have it framed!"

She stands and pods him to his window. "Dear Tom," she says, and then adds, "foolish fellow, to write me a valentine presents himself at the office of the Epoch, and is duly ushered into the editor's room. As he enters the room, he sees that the editor is still looking at his card.

"What can I do for you, Mr. Travers?" looking up keenly at Tom.

"Tom hesitates. "I have a poem—a St. Valentine's poem I would like to show you—"

"Did you write that to your lady-

"love?" says the editor quickly.

"N—o—well—yes," Tom blushes a little. "The fact is, I wrote it to my wife."

"You did?" she exclaims, as the editor rather brusquely, the Tom thinks he sees something glinting in the editor's eye. "Well, it isn't bad. Say, I'll give you five dollars for it." Tom is overflowed.

"You must have a sweet wife, eh?" says the editor, looking up at Tom while writing out the check.

"Well, take good care of her," and—give her my love. Good-day."

The editor has been sitting thinking, with his head resting on his hand, for a long time. A tear trickles through his fingers. "I know who she is," says as I say it. "It's so that's the fellow she married—well, and he's writing her valentines, and they've been married, let's see, yes, six years. I can't publish it, taking up Tom's Valentine, but I'll keep it, and he places it in his desk; and another tear falls from the editor's eye.

89 ADDITIONS TO CHURCH.

As an evidence that there is no abatement of interest in the evangelistic services now in the second week, at the Christian church, there have been 24 additions to the Christian church since our issue of Tuesday, making a total of 89 up to and including Tuesday night.

The attendance has been the same from the first service under the conduct of Dr. Crossfield, every seat being filled and many standing through most of the services. People who live ten and twelve miles in the Fun for Everybody.

The coming week promises to afford plenty of amusement for the little folks of Hopkinsville, and to many older people as well, who are fond of the dog and pony show. Next Monday Seibel Brothers' company of 200 animal actors, including dogs, ponies and monkeys, will be here for two performances and a beautiful miniature street parade. Seibel Brothers are making their initial visit through this state, playing the larger cities principally, and have a new dog and pony show, which they claim to be superior, in many respects to any similar exhibition in the country. The show has been on tour only three years, but during that time it has come to the front very rapidly. "There is not an old or worn-out act on the program," says the press agent, "and we have a ring performance consisting of new and novel features, which surpasses any dog and pony show in the United States. Seibel Brothers are in the field with new offerings entirely, with the exception of the spectacular fifty pony drill and the monkey barber shop. Both of these acts have been seen before by Seibel Brothers entered the field, but have always proven such big hits that it was decided to place them on the program." With these exceptions, however, according to the press agent, every act is absolutely new. Seibel Brothers make a specialty of a children's riding academy, which is not a part of the performance proper, but for which no charge is made. Every child attending the performance will be taught the first principles of riding by an expert director. Fifty Shetland ponies are placed in commission and each one is bridled and saddled and placed in charge of a competent and obliging attendant. New and interesting draws of Shetland ponies in the world. Out of the lot, number 75, not a single one will weigh over 300 pounds, and the smallest pair among them weighs less than 100 pounds.

country have been coming in to the services. Tuesday night several came up from Princeton to hear one of the grandest sermons of the series.

Dr. Crossfield's theme was "Things That Save." He said that this old world is just what it has always been—not the variation of a hair's breadth in the course of the stars or the return of the seasons. It has always been spring, summer, autumn and winter—they always follow in their order, winter never takes the place of summer. It is the same way in the spiritual world. God always has some defined plan and order for the salvation of man—he wants every man to be saved. He has always wanted it thus, and when a man becomes a partaker of Christ's salvation it is by the operations of God's providential plan and order.

After saving Hotel Latham from an imaginary fire by the alarm being turned in, the prompt response to the call by the fire, the attaching of the hose to the fireplug, turning the stream on the burning building, the work of the bucket brigade and the final extinction of the flames by the hook and ladder company doing its part; then the saving of the man overboard at sea by the captain seeing the man fall over, having the engineer reverse the engines, the life saving crew going to the rescue, but all to no avail, the man being saved from a watery grave by laying hold of the lifeline thrown him.

In the case of the fire, the hotel was saved by the combined efforts of those participating and not by any one person's efforts, but by all the means employed. So in the case of the drowning man, every effort put forth was necessary and all depended on the other—if the captain had not seen the man fall overboard no one would have known it, the ship would not have been stopped, the man would not have been drawn in by the men pulling at the line, the man could not have been saved if he had not done his part toward saving himself.

are these lines from J. H. Simmons, of Casey, Ill. Think what might have resulted from his terrible cough if he had not taken the medicine above which he suffered. means employed. These two illustrations were given that while God is always ready to save men, and does save them by His grace, yet men must do something to save themselves—they must "work out their own salvation". He then quoted Eph. 2:8, "By grace are ye saved through faith". A man must have faith to be saved. God's grace offers the Gospel to men and unless you lay hold of it you will never be

You must believe in Jesus. "Thou shall call His name Jesus, for He shall save the people from their sins"—Matt. 1:21. God's plan was to send His only Son to earth that all who believed in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. We are saved by Christ's blood; by His life.

We must be buried in the likeness of His death, the likeness of His resurrection, the likeness of the life that He now lives. We must confess Him. He does not believe in secret discipleship. How can a man who has found a savior keep from going out and finding his brother and bringing him to Christ? We must work. "What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith and have not works? Can faith save him?"—James 2:14.

Then, there must be repentance. "Unless ye repent you shall all likewise perish. A man must hear the Gospel. "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth"—Rom. 1:16.

The evangelist proved his statement by many other Scriptural quotations that God does His part and man must do his part in order to be saved. It will not do for a man to sit down and wait for God to come along and pick him up and save him.

He referred to a relative who believed that God would save him without his doing his part and he died without a ray of home. His two children were raised in the same belief and they died like their father.
